

AMPAREX API Login

To access the API you have to be authorised first and there are two types of API profiles used for authorisation set up in AMPAREX:

1. Technical profile – used whenever 'technical' data is to be accessed or saved. Typical case scenarios are: general exports or calendar synchronisations. This profile uses one default branch and one user.

2. Functional profile – used whenever different employees want to access the API. Possible usage would be for mobile applications when separate employee login is required.
